

IYSA February Coach of the Month

Casey Mclaughlin

Idaho Youth Soccer's February Coach of the Month is Casey Mclaughlin! He is currently coaching the U-12 Sandpoint Strikers.

"I believe that inspiring confidence in kids creates success," said Mclaughlin. "If a person believes in him or herself they will find success. It is my job as a coach/teacher to help student athletes find that confidence."

This is a philosophy he has applied to his various fields of coaching. Mclaughlin has experience coaching high school football, basketball AND soccer!

Mclaughlin said his most memorable experience coaching is when his team ended their season undefeated went and watched Sandpoint High School Varsity Girls play in the State Championship. His players looked at each other and said, "That is going to be us someday!" He found it exciting to see that level of confidence in his players.

Coach Mclaughlin is a fan of the Seattle Sounders and a big fan of DeAndre Yedlin. He loves to be active and play all kinds of sports and activities including hiking, biking, swimming, basketball, soccer and skiing.

Congratulations to Coach Casey Mclaughlin for being the February Coach of the Month. Idaho soccer is lucky to have him as part of this community.
