"I am excited for another year of Idaho ODP. While the times may be a little different, the talent level of each age group has not changed, nor has the desire to get our Idaho players the chance to compete in the oldest and most proven pathway. With the addition of showcase events for our older age groups as another identification option, I'm confident we can continue to get our players identified at the Regional, National and now Collegiate level through their participation in the ODP Program.
